The ISAC / Golf Comparison

Totaling 360 Points or More

If we were to compare this to the golf tournaments, which are four-day events, there are only a few venues which have four or more days at their events which are listed below. These could be considered “The Majors” in the Atlatl World. In this comparison, par is considered a score of 90 and any points over that would be compared to being under par. For example, a score of 373.7 for four consecutive days, would be a “thirteen under par” or a -13. However, to be fair, golf is a more demanding mental game of some 280 strokes as compared to this mere 40 throws. Also, the game of atlatl golf is more challenging, and has yet to be done in a four-day tournament style, but hey, you never know... Go for it.

“The Majors”

Venues with four or more days at their events as well as a few others (e.g. Annual WAA meeting)

February	Wintercount – in the desert, AZ
March	Valley of Fire, NV
June	Terry Keefer Memorial – Bald Eagle, PA
July	Green Flats – Hancock, NY
August	Eastern Seaboard – Letchworth St Pk, NY
September	Rabbitstick – Rexburg, NV

Summary to Date: 3 people have scored 360 points or more in four consecutive ISACs at a single event on 32 separate occasions (5 of these had all four scores of 90 or more). The highest score is 373.7 and the most X's are 9. The breakdown is 16-360+, 11-365+, 5-370+ and 0-375+.

Best Run of Ten ISACs in a Row

Total score of 932.6 with 16 X's

The average score is 93.26

So far, the best run of ten ISACs in a row occurred in May-June of 2012 by Douglas Bassett as part of a 14-game streak with scores of 90 or more. (The total for the 14-game streak is 1304.3 with 23X's, average 93.16) The particulars of the best ten are as follows:

Jersey Rock & Shoot – Washington	Spearfishing Derby – Letchworth St. Pk.			Dairy Festival – Cuba		Atlatsl-in-Action – Elmira			Meadowcroft – Avella

Back to that Golf Comparison

28 games needed for the 280 strokes and par of 2520 points

So 28 games in a row would be needed to just begin to compare to the mental demands in the game of golf, but in the ISAC world, the best example spans 11 events over a period of 15 weeks – total score 2588.5 with 45 X's, an average of 92.45, better than a two under par for each of 28 games, for an incredible sixty-eight under par, -68!! But if par was 92, then this would be a more comparable twelve under par (-12). However, with all the rest in between, the comparison is not as valid until somebody actually shoots seven games a day for four days in a row. Anyone want to give it a try? Yes you might get sore, but just think of all the fun...

Here is the breakdown of the best 28 games in a row that has been thrown to date:
